

Iain Jamieson
Country Manager, New Zealand
Visa International

Iain Jamieson has recently been appointed Visa Country Manager for New Zealand after transferring across from the Visa Central and Eastern Europe, Middle East and Africa region (CEMEA).

Before Iain's transfer he was Vice President of Business Development for Visa International in the Middle East based at Visa's regional Head office in Dubai. Iain was responsible for all Visa business activities in the UAE, Saudi Arabia, Oman and Qatar.

Before this Iain was General Manager of Visa's Saudi Arabian office based in Riyadh. During Iain's two years in Saudi Arabia, Visa business grew by over 70%, with Visa consistently being voted the number one payment card in the Kingdom.

Before taking over in Saudi Arabia Iain was responsible for all E-Commerce and Smart Card initiatives in the Gulf region for Visa International. Based in Dubai, Iain worked on the development and implementation of chip card and e-Commerce related projects with banks all over the Middle East, including encryption and data security issues, new products for e-Commerce, and Virtual Visa cards.

Before moving to Dubai seven years ago, Iain worked in Visa CEMEA region's London office, managing the System Support, Certification and Implementation groups.

Prior to joining Visa International ten years ago, Iain worked for a major UK retail bank, where he was involved in Systems Support for the payment cards issued by that bank.

Iain has a post-graduate diploma in Management Science from the University of Leicester.
